AGA’s CGFM Practice Exams Overview

REMEMBER TO

- Read each question carefully before answering.
- Use the right arrowhead (➡️) to proceed to next question.
- Use the left arrowhead (⬅️) to return to the previous question(s).
- Results of your practice exam are displayed upon completion. If you quit the exam before answering all the questions, exam results will not be displayed.
- To begin your exam, select the START button. Good Luck.

CUSTOMIZE YOUR EXAM

- Total questions available for this exam
- Start your exam
- Change the number of questions you would like to include in your exam
- Uncheck this box to disengage the timer
- To track your time, set the timer using the drop down boxes
AGA’s CGFM Practice Exams Overview

The executive branch of the U.S. government has the ability to

- a) place limits on government spending using appropriations.
- b) issue and enforce regulations required by statute.
- c) declare war against another country.
- d) review laws for legal sufficiency.

Answered questions will display a blue box and bookmarked questions will display a yellow box.
Click here to add or remove a bookmark for a question.
Click on a question number to jump ahead or go back to a previous question.
If you see a problem with a question, click on the flag icon to open a dialogue box and send a comment to the administrator.
AGA’s CGFM Practice Exams Overview

TEST RESULT: I: ORGANIZATION, STRUCTURE AND AUTHORITY

1 / 10

Score
Percentage 10%

10%
1/10

IMPORTANT: Click here to view which questions were answered correctly
1. The executive branch of the U.S. government has the ability to ___

- You Answered: review laws for legal sufficiency.
- Correct Answer: issue and enforce regulations required by statute.
AGA’s CGFM Practice Exams Overview

View overall performance level

Progress bars will be green, yellow or red for general performance guidance.
AGA’s CGFM Practice Exams Overview

For technical difficulties, use the Help button to contact Test Run or email info@testrun.com