CITIZEN-CENTRIC REPORT 2016-2017

Vision

AGA is the premier association for advancing government accountability.

Mission

AGA fosters learning, certification, leadership and collaboration for professionals and stakeholders committed to advancing government accountability.

About the Mid-Missouri Chapter

The Mid-Missouri Chapter of the Association of Government Accountants (AGA) was founded on July 11, 1973. Our first Chapter President was John Ashcroft.

The Mid-Missouri Chapter is located in Jefferson City, Missouri. The state Capitol is also located in Jefferson City. With that in mind, state government is the largest employer in the area.

The Chapter goals include providing cost effective education opportunities, advancement of the profession, and giving back to the community.

During the year, we provide multiple education opportunities which include chapter meetings, webinars, and full day training events. We also work to advance the profession by supporting any chapter members pursuing their offered at the chapter, regional, sectional and national level of AGA.

The Chapter stays connected

CGFM certification through mentoring, scholarships, and study groups. We give back to the community through various fundraising and volunteer opportunities. Finally, we help create leaders in our organization through the training and leadership opportunities with our members on our website at <http://midmoaga.org> as well as through newsletters, meetings, and emails. The Chapter also hosts networking opportunities for Chapter members.

Awards and Scholarships

The Mid-Missouri Chapter received the Platinum Chapter level, the highest level attainable for chapter activity. This continues the Chapter’s continuous record of Platinum awards since the current Chapter Recognition Program was started. This year the Chapter also received a first place for the AGA Ledger.

At the local level, the chapter awards scholarships to students working towards a business or accounting degree. Scholarship funds are provided for a high school student, a college student, and a member that is actively pursuing a degree.

This year, the Chapter awarded a member scholarship to Jamie Pine, high school scholarships to Kendall LePage and Taylor Meyer.

The Chapter also awards Member of the Year awards and the President’s Award to active members that have significantly contributed to the efforts of the chapter through their time, talent, and presentations. Member of the Year Award went to Shari LePage and runner-up to Tracy Farris. The President’s Award went to Amanda Siford.

Chapter Objectives

Primarily to instruct, train, and inform government financial managers in the field of accounting, auditing, budgeting, systems, and financial management. This continuing education process will provide for the professional development of government financial managers so that they may better serve the public.

To contribute to the advancement of financial management principles and standards and through educational events, promote appropriate utilization of financial management methods and techniques to improve management control and accountability to the public.

To promote the observance of professional standards and ethics in the accomplishment of government financial management activities.

To recognize the unique skills and knowledge required of professionals who specialize in government financial management by sponsoring a professional certification program.

Chapter Finances

The Mid-Missouri Chapter does not collect annual dues from its members. Instead, the Chapter uses training and meeting registrations as the main source of income.

Since the Chapter relies so heavily on that income, the Chapter has made the conscious decision to hold one year's worth of income in certificates of deposits. This protects the Chapter in the event of a non-refundable disaster related cancellation of an education event. The funds could then be used to cover the cost of operations until another educational event could be hosted to generate income.

The largest portion of the revenue comes from the two annual Professional Development Training events.

The Chapter's largest expenses are the cost of the two annual Professional Development Training events, meals for educational events, and speaker fees and travel expenses.

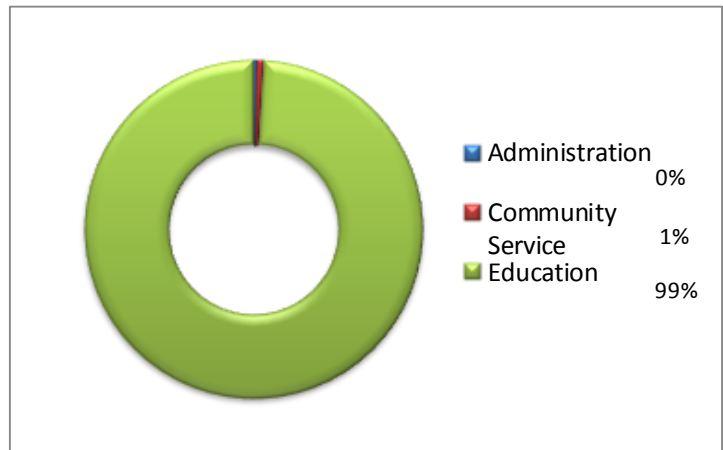

The Chapter is seeing the cost of operations rise while the membership is slowly shrinking. This is a challenge that the Chapter will work to overcome in the future program

Independent Audit

The Mid-Missouri Chapter's Financial Statements are reviewed by the Chapter Executive Committee. Additionally, the Chapter strives to obtain independent review by volunteer members annually.

Challenges Moving Forward

Mid-Missouri AGA will strive to utilize technology to communicate as well as to provide basic operations. We are on Facebook and LinkedIn; we utilize e-mail to communicate with our membership; and we are constantly making improvements to our website www.midmoaga.org. Our online event registration has been greatly improved and continues to develop.

The board is also working to address succession for future board years. We are brainstorming for innovative ideas that will interest new board members while still achieving our goals for the membership.

The board is also seeking innovative topics for monthly education opportunities. We review speakers at not only the national level, but also regional and other AGA chapter events and trying to obtain that expertise to the Mid-MO AGA local chapter level. We are continuing to offer local topics and grants training as needed.

Great things are in store for our members and will impact the governments for which we work.
