AGA Announces New National Governing Board Officers

(Alexandria, Va.) AGA is pleased to announce the election of new officers to its National Governing Board. The board confirmed Frank Petersen III, CGFM, as national president-elect; Michelle Yanok, CGFM, as national treasurer-elect; and Rachelle Cabading, CGFM, CFE, as director (at-large). The three leaders will serve two-year terms beginning July 1, 2023.

Petersen is NASA's Deputy Chief Financial Officer, Finance, in Washington, D.C. and oversees its quality assurance and financial management divisions. In that capacity he is responsible for internal controls, enterprise risk management, and financial reporting. Instrumental in earning NASA's clean audit opinion for 11 consecutive years, he also served as acting senior advisor for NASA's inclusion, diversity, equity, and accessibility (IDEA) program. He is a member of AGA's D.C. chapter.

Yanok is an accounting manager for the Department of the Treasury, Bureau of the Fiscal Service in Parkersburg, W.V. With 20 years' service at the Fiscal Service Bureau of Public Debt, she currently oversees the transaction processing of grants, loans and foreign activity for the Fiscal Service's franchising customers. Prior to her current role, Yanok spent 12 years as an accounting manager/controller in the private industry. She is a charter member of AGA's Mid-Ohio Valley chapter and serves on AGA's national finance and budget committee.

As director of the Tennessee Comptroller of the Treasury's Office of Management Services, Cabading leads its fiscal, facilities, and human resources operations and its statewide oversight of procurements, including compliance reviews. She has more than 24 years of experience working in the comptroller's office, more than twenty-two of those years in the local government audit section. She is a member of AGA's Nashville chapter and chairs AGA's national higher education committee.
