Practicing Resilience as a Byproduct of Discipline, Focus, and Determination

Have you ever been in a position where your mind just keeps playing the things you should be doing and yet you have done nothing at all? You just procrastinate, imagine the details, and just get overwhelmed and consumed by it? Talking from my own personal experience, this is a common struggle for me where discipline and focus are out of the window. How do you develop that resilience as a byproduct of discipline, focus, and determination?

A lot happened in the month of September and there are significant events that we in the accountants and finance world can draw lessons from.

The Throwback:

I would like to make a tribute to Ms. Lourdes "Lou" Rodriguez Perez in this section of my message. She died on September 3 at the age of 57. She was a member of AGA for 31 years and had served in various capacities and one of them was the Community Service Director. I may not be so visibly close to her, but she had a great influence and inspired me in my volunteer work. Despite her demanding schedules, she had always been with us serving at the Annual AGA 5K, Kamalen Karidat Soup Kitchen, painting the school projects, and doing many other volunteers work. May she rest in peace and our memory of her live on.

Like her, there are many of those members at the AGA Guam Chapter that have been an inspiration to us in one way or another. They are those who regardless of their status in the community, and their leadership roles, still find the time to support and encourage us when life gets tangled with competing priorities and have the humility and sensitivity to pull us up when we are down and lost.

In The Now:

September was a very busy month for most of us. But before that, the month of August membership meeting was highlighted by our guest speaker Dr. Kelly Richmond Pope who presented about Financial Fraud Prevention and Detection which is just in time for our financial closing and busy months ahead. Despite her hectic speaking engagement, she was able to present in the Guam time zone. Other than she had been featured in several Ted Talks, you will know more about her advocacies and work as you visit her website at www.kellyrichmondpope.com.

September 11, 2022 was the AGA Guam Chapter Anniversary which was founded in 1970. A sincere gratitude to those 20 individuals with finance and accounting backgrounds who met for the first time with the desire in advancing government accountability and to date, we have over 260+ members.

This month, we also donated to the Island Girl Power in honor of our guest speaker last July - Ms. Pam Sherman as one of her advocacies is empowering young girls. As our member gives generously, the AGA Guam chapter also received a monetary donation from the AGA Saipan Chapter. The donation will go a long way toward our mission, and we hope to continue to connect and network with them and build on our relationship with the members.

The Guam International Coastal Clean-up also happened this month. Along with other volunteers, AGA Guam Chapter supported the Guam Community College site assignment at Pago Bay. It was another experience which reminded us of needing to be responsible citizen and to take care of our beautiful island.

The event was also followed by the GASB 87 Implementation which was sponsored by the Office of the Public Accountability. It was well attended by over 100 accountants and the in-person training transpired for several days. Other than the loaded information of the GASB 87 and other related changes and updates on financial reporting, it was also an opportunity to network and get together and have brief catch up with fellow colleagues. We are grateful to Public Auditor BJ Cruz for pulling this event along with his OPA team.

Take Aways:

My featured photo was taken in Niagara Falls back in April 2018 as a derivative of my travel attending the Human Resources Conference in Baltimore, Maryland. Niagara Falls is known for being one of the world's wonders and for its awe-inspiring scenery. Several facts taken from my readings at the www.niagarafallstatepark.com website, it is an area of 12,300 years in the making and has a strong current with annual freezing and thawing which wears away at the rocks under the surface and gradual erosion and periodic rockfalls steadily move Niagara Falls farther upstream. There are so many stories behind the Niagara Falls but one of its significance is the industrialist who worked to harness its force and convert it into hydroelectricity, which has the capacity to produce 2.4 million kilowatts of electricity.

How do these historical sites relate to us in the field? Looking back at Ms. Maripaz Perez's, past AGA Guam Chapter President program year's theme about "Resilience: Turning Obstacles into Opportunities." which speaks volumes. Working on back-office support has so many challenges such as staffing issues, lack of resources, competing priorities, regulatory and leadership changes, long hours of work, and evolving demands. Harnessing resilience is so much easier said than done. But how do we turn it to be an opportunity to renew ourselves and become resilient, adaptive, and modernized in our workplace through the use of technology? This is a question which we must work out, day in and day out, which will somehow get through us on a better position as we are today.

The death of Queen Elizabeth II has also made a significant impact on this month for many top leaders in the world. She was the longest-serving monarch and celebrated 70 years on the throne this year according to several press releases. We all can take away so many lessons learned from the write-up and documentaries about her life. As CEO Today magazine described her (<https://www.ceotodaymagazine.com/2022/09/5-leadership-lessons-from-queen-elizabeth-ii/>) during her remarkable time as a monarch, Queen Elizabeth II lived through war and peace, recessions and times of growth, family scandals and tragedies, and one global pandemic. She's seen a mind-blowing number of changes and challenges in her lifetime and has demonstrated an extraordinary level of resilience and adaptability. According to The Healthy Leader post <https://healthycompanies.com/queen-elizabeth-reigning-with-resilience/>, resilient people share three distinct characteristics 1) facing down reality, 2) searching for meaning, and 3) ritualizing ingenuity.

As we tackle our daily tasks and come to work every day, let us all find purpose and meaning. Be reminded of no matter the circumstance we are all in, we continue to practice mindfulness, flexibility, and self-care enabling us to bounce back and regain our energy after a long day. Let me close my message with one of my favorite quotes, "Character cannot be developed in ease and quiet. Only through experience of trial and suffering can the soul be strengthened, vision cleared, ambition inspired, and success achieved." by Helen Keller.

MEET THE TEAM

YUKA HECHANOVA

BY-LAWS & PROCEDURES COMMITTEE

(1) What does AGA mean to you?

AGA adds a level of professionalism to my work beyond the day to day and has been responsible for my valuable connections with others in the field for the last 20+ years.

(2) What advice do you have for others to make the most out of their membership?

Network even further and volunteer in a committee. No task is too small and it will add more meaning to your membership!

(3) What's a quote or motto that motivates you?

No quote but I find much motivation in my family, friends, and outdoor activities. They give me purpose.

(4) What do you do at the Education committee?

I chair the bylaws committee and ensure the Guam Chapter bylaws conform to the AGA National standards. My committee also ensures our policies and procedures are updated to depict our desired processes.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT: MEMBER EXPERIENCE AT PDT 2022

We've asked members who attended the 2022 Professional Development Training (PDT) in Anaheim, California to share about their experience. Read on to hear from Nancy Cueto (Fiscal Manager, CEDDARS – UOG), Justin Castro (Accountant I, Guam Waterworks Authority) – one of the Chapter's raffle winners for the PDT Scholarship, and Kate Jeszenszky (Accountant I, Guam Waterworks Authority) – recipient of one of five Young Professional (YP) Scholarships from AGA National.

In case you don't know, the PDT is AGA's annual premier training and networking event. It had over 1,400 in-person attendees (and another 1,500 virtual participants)! AGA's Professional Development Training (PDT) brings together a broad audience of more than 2,000 federal, state and local government financial professionals, including federal, state and local government CFOs, inspectors general, accountants, auditors as well as financial professionals from the private sector.

Look out for this Program Year's PDT Scholarship on how to qualify or visit our website for the Policies and Procedures on our raffle program. Visit the AGA National's website for the dates and locations of future PDTs. 2023's PDT will be held on July 23-26 at Orlando World Center Marriott, in Orlando, Florida.

NANCY CUETO

AGA PDT offers lots of concurrent breakout sessions and diverse range of topics to choose from, e.g., HR, IT, Accounting, government, auditing, finance, and professional development. Not to mention the topnotch speakers from various backgrounds who spent their time to share their experiences and knowledge to everyone.

AGA welcomes all professionals who wish to update and enhance their skills and stay in compliance. Biba AGA!

JUSTIN B. CASTRO

Buenas yan Hafa Adai AGA Members,

Have you ever just sat there and wondered how it would be to work as an accountant in the FBI or CIA or how tribal governments generate revenues to run their operations, or what tools and methods the NSA uses to stop cyber terrorism? I have often wondered myself and recently found the answers. In July 2022, I had the privilege to attend one of the greatest government accounting conferences out there: the AGA Professional Development Training (PDT).

This year's PDT was held in Anaheim, California near Disneyland Resort and had over 1,400 in-person attendees. Most of the attendees are federal, state, and local government financial professionals, ranging from staff accountants to CEOs.

I was fortunate enough to win last program year's PDT raffle and had the privilege to spend PDT with several AGA Guam Chapter members, which made the experience memorable. This opportunity allowed me to network with other AGA Chapter members from around the country and learn skills and solutions to modern day issues.

I attended several sessions ranging from personal development to government fraud. One of my favorite sessions was by Dave Weinberg and his topic "The Power of 8". As a retired Air Force Colonel, Weinberg talked about his experiences in the Air Force and why to appreci8, communic8, and compens8 your team for them to be gr8.

The beauty of Weinberg's presentation was that as accountants, we see our staff as a liability and not as an asset unless you work at an accounting firm. If you ignore your staff and do not appreci8, communic8, and compens8 them fairly, they tend to leave the company to pursue greener pastures.

All in all, my PDT 22 experience was great. I highly recommend attending if your organization is willing to send you. The knowledge and training obtained far weigh the cost of attending the conference. If your company cannot send you, AGA National has a Young Professional Scholarship for first time attendees. More information can be found on their website. In addition, AGA Guam Chapter has an annual PDT Raffle. The requirements are as follows: Must be in Good Standing with your AGA membership, must attend 8 out of 10 AGA General Membership meetings, and must perform one (1) community service during the program year.

KATE JESZENSZKY

My First Experience at PDT

When I had first received the news that I was one of the YP scholarship recipients, I took the news with open arms but at the same time, did not know what to fully expect. Little did I know that the Professional Development Training in Anaheim, California would be an inspiring experience that I will never forget. I was able to learn from various leaders and experts in the field of finance and accounting, as well as professional development. I met with amazing people from all over the country and listened to some of the most insightful pieces of advice from people from different walks of life.

Some important lessons learned during the PDT were:

- Importance of mindset, attitude, and work relationships
- The power of gratitude and appreciation
- The power of writing down your goals
- How to improve in any aspect of your life
- Importance of Self-Care

My favorite speakers were definitely the Plenary Speakers: Mark Shulman “Drummer of P!NK, Cher, Billy Idol, Foreigner, Sheryl Crow, Stevie Nicks, and Beyonce”, Pandit Dasa “Mindfulness Leadership Expert and former Monk”, and Princess Sarah Culberson “Princess of Sierra Leone, Humanitarian and Author”.

It was nice being able to catch up with some old friends and make new ones along the way. I would like to thank AGA for making this experience possible. It was a very unforgettable experience and if possible, I would highly encourage applying to the Young Professional Scholarship!

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT: BOARD NOMINATION

Congratulations to Dr. Doreen T. Crisostomo-Muña, who was nominated by Governor Lou Leon Guerrero to serve on the Board of the Guam Economic Development Authority. Dr. Crisostomo-Muña is a Professor of Accounting and is Vice President of the 22nd Faculty Senate with the University of Guam. She's currently the Accountability Director of the Guam Chapter and serves as an advisor of the Junior Accountants Society.

COMMUNITY SERVICE: ICC VOLUNTEERS

Although it was a late notice, we managed to have some members show up for the 2022 International Coastal Clean Up on September 10, 2022, at the Pago Bay site at 6:30am.

COMMUNITY SERVICE: ISLAND GIRL POWER DONATION

It was a full day for our community service team as they also presented Island Girl Power with funds collected from July's membership meeting totaling $341.77. Our representatives were able to tour their area, including the community garden and thrift store in Dededo.

COMMUNITY SERVICE: DONATION DRIVE

The Guam Chapter sought donations for the Community First Guam Federal Credit Union donation drive. Donations of various toiletries, dry food goods, and supplies were collected to benefit Harvest House and the Guam Homeless Coalition from Security Title and Guam Waterworks Authority.

CHAPTER SHOUTOUT

Chapter President Josie Villanueva gifted July Speaker Pam Sherman with some Guam swag, which Pam shared an appreciation post for on her IG account.

thepamsherman Love getting this Guam swag bag from the Association of Government Accountants of Guam. Thank you, Josie, for reconnecting and asking me to speak to the organization. Energy Leadership from Rochester, New York all the way to Guam.

CGFM REMINDERS: ANNUAL CPE AUDIT

Be Reminded that the AGA conducts an Annual CPE Audit

Once a year, AGA conducts a CPE audit of randomly selected CGFMs. Be prepared and make sure that you are current with your CPE requirements.

If you are selected for the audit, you will be notified by email and will be asked to provide appropriate documentation of all CPEs you earned.

We encourage you to please double-check your records to make sure you have the proper backup documentation.

The guidelines are listed in the CGFM CPE Requirements, Section 16 (as provided below).

Section 16: CGFMs are required to maintain supporting documentation on CPE hours earned for a minimum of three years and provide it to AGA upon request. The CGFM's records must include the following information for each CPE program or activity attended or completed:

- a. the program sponsor – name of the organization providing the training (for example, AGA National Office, a local AGA chapter)*
- b. the title of the training program, including subject matter, field of study or a brief description of its contents;*
- c. the dates attended for group programs or dates completed for individual study programs;*
- d. the number of CPE hours earned; and*
- e. evidence of attendance or completion. This might include the following:*
 - a certificate of attendance, a CPE form or other evidence or completion of CPE from the CPE provider for group and individual-study programs.*
 - a grade report received for a university or college credit course.*
 - a letter from the program sponsor or CGFM's employer, documenting the CPE courses presented and/or developed.*
 - a copy of the published book, article, or materials that names the writer as author or contributor, a written statement from the writer supporting the number of CPE hours claimed, and the name and contact information of the publisher, if applicable.*
- an official report from the employer that has the employer's name and lists all of the required information (employee's name, program sponsor, title of the program, completion date and number of hours earned).*

STUDENT CONNECTIONS

Association of Junior Accountants

MEET THE FALL 2022 AJA OFFICERS

CHERYL GUYTON, PRESIDENT

Expected Graduation Date: Fall 2023

AJA a wonderful organization and I am honored to be part of an amazing team.

As part of the AJA team, I hope to ensure success in our future events, such as trainings, the Need to Lead student conference, Fall Fest, Tour of the Pacific, and Spring Fest. With these events, we can promote the organization, encourage more AJA members, and highlight the accounting program. I also hope to achieve our fundraising goals so we can reward our accounting graduates with sashes.

I look forward to participating in these activities now that we can connect with more people face to face.

VINCENT FERNANDEZ, VICE PRESIDENT

Expected graduation date: Spring 2024

I hope to create connections with my peers in accounting/business and learn from their experiences since it is my first year of college. I also plan on inspiring and encouraging more students to take Accounting and to have more accounting majors become more involved with AJA by planning more activities within the organization.

MARIAN FELICITY OLIVEROS, SECRETARY

Expected Graduation Date: Spring 2024

Being relatively new to the accounting scene, I hope to gain first-hand experience in the work field, and further my accounting skills both personally and professionally.

AGA CODE OF ETHICS

As a refresher, see the AGA Code of Ethics, as presented in the new branding. You may also visit the AGA (National) website for the AGA Ethics Handbook.

Code of Ethics

AGA members and non-members who hold the Certified Government Financial Manager® (CGFM®) certification¹ exercise the highest quality of performance and help earn and maintain public confidence in the accountability profession.

Our Code of Ethics (the Code) sets a minimum standard of behavior and creates an expectation that AGA members and non-member CGFMs will conduct themselves in an ethical and professional manner. AGA members and non-member CGFMs agree to adhere to the Code of Ethics.

The Code consists of Four Principles with underlying rules to support each Principle.

Principle 1: AGA Members and CGFMs Shall Serve and Support the Public Interest

The public consists of citizens, taxpayers, customers, employers, employees, investors, the business and financial sector, and others who rely on the objectivity and integrity of government accountability professionals.

The public should reasonably expect those who serve government to be trustworthy. AGA members also have an obligation to demonstrate accountability. Accordingly, AGA members and non-member CGFMs must adhere to the following rules:

- 1.1 Abide by the expectations, standards and rules of the position they hold; and seek necessary information to interpret and apply them.
- 1.2 Accept personal responsibility for the foreseeable consequences of action(s) and inaction.
- 1.3 Adhere to the standards of conduct of their employers and any professional associations or organizations of which they are a member.
- 1.4 Consider the long-term interest of the government and its citizens.

Principle 2: AGA Members and CGFMs Shall Maintain the Highest Standards of Professionalism and Integrity

Government accountability professionals shall work at the highest standards of professionalism, attain the highest levels of performance, and meet the public interest principle. Accordingly, AGA members and non-member CGFMs must adhere to the following rules:

- 2.1 Demonstrate integrity and credibility by being believable, trustworthy, straightforward and honest in performing professional services.
- 2.2 Maintain professionalism by acting with the skill, good judgment, and respectful behavior expected of someone trained to do a job well.
- 2.3 Perform quality services by providing the highest standards of performance and complying with all applicable professional standards.
- 2.4 Project confidence to instill in others a full and strong belief that ethics govern their actions.
- 2.5 Perform job tasks with diligence.

¹The Code of Ethics also applies to CGFM candidates

AGA CODE OF ETHICS

Code of Ethics

- 2.6 Maintain professional knowledge and skills for effective, efficient work.
- 2.7 Perform the duties of their position and supervise the work of subordinates with the highest degree of professional care.
- 2.8 Engage only in those services for which they have the necessary knowledge, skills, and experience.
- 2.9 Exercise diligence, objectivity and honesty in professional activities, including the utilization and management of resources.
- 2.10 Behave with dignity and respect for others.
- 2.11 Refuse to engage in acts that discredit the accountability profession.
- 2.12 Obey the law.

Principle 3: AGA Members and CGFMs Shall Remain Objective in Carrying Out Their Duties and Responsibilities

Objectivity requires being fair and decision-making without prejudice, bias, conflict of interest, or influence of others. Accordingly, AGA members and non-member CGFMs must adhere to the following rules:

- 3.1 Render opinions, observations or conclusions for official purposes only, after appropriate consideration of pertinent facts.
- 3.2 Remain free from real or perceived conflicts of interest.
- 3.3 Be fair and not allow prejudice, bias, conflict of interest, or influence of others to affect decision-making.
- 3.4 Avoid any activity that creates or gives the appearance of impropriety.
- 3.5 Remain aware of the responsibility to disclose to appropriate parties any improprieties that come to their attention.

Principle 4: AGA Members and CGFMs Shall Carefully Maintain and Protect Confidential Information

The public, employers, and organizations with which members are affiliated expect members to maintain confidentiality over information. Accordingly, AGA members and non-member CGFMs must adhere to the following rules:

- 4.1 Refuse to disclose or use any confidential information acquired in the performance of professional services, unless proper and specific authority has been granted or a legal or professional right or duty to disclose becomes apparent.
- 4.2 Transmit and use confidential information obtained in their professional work only for the purpose intended, neither for personal gain or advantage, nor to the disadvantage of others.
