

Program Title	An Introduction to Environmental, Social and Governance: How the government can lead by example
Location	Virtual – Zoom Webinar
Date	March 15, 2022
Start Time	12:00 pm
End Time	1:00 pm
Program Description	Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) is a hot topic in the private sector, but it's not just for the private sector anymore. The Biden Administration has signed nearly 30 executive orders addressing ESG issues. Additionally, the Administration has committed to becoming net zero by 2050. The US will not be able to meet this commitment without the federal government leading the way. Learn about the ways the government can develop and implement ESG strategies and how the government can report on ESG non-financial information.
Learning Objectives	Participants will learn about the trends in ESG reporting, including the different standards and frameworks. We will also discuss the current regulatory landscape and how the role of finance can drive sustainability for government agencies.
Discussion Topics	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Understanding the trends related to ESG in government. 2. Reporting on ESG metrics can help restore accountability and transparency in government. 3. Trust will increase if governments use credible reports on ESG metrics that are independently audited to promote reliability in the data.
