

Marianne Roth
Chief Risk Officer
Consumer Financial Protection
Bureau

Marianne Roth is the first Chief Risk Officer for the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) and is standing up its ERM program. Marianne served as the Branch Manager for ERM at the Transportation Security Administration.

She oversaw all ERM activities at TSA and led the agency's efforts to significantly mature its ERM program. Marianne was the Director of the DHS Efficiency Review in the Office of the Secretary, DHS.

She has worked for various consulting firms including BearingPoint and Booz Allen Hamilton where she led many complex process improvement engagements for diverse Federal clients.