

Rajiv Uppal, Chief Information Officer
Internal Revenue Service (IRS)

Rajiv Uppal is the Chief Information Officer (CIO) for the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Rajiv is a mission-driven leader, who promotes employee empowerment and engagement programs designed towards building an effective team that manages and institutionalizes innovation and change. In November 2023, Rajiv was honored with the prestigious Presidential Rank Award for his contributions to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and our nation.

Prior to joining IRS, Rajiv served as the CIO for the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services. Additionally, he also served as part of the U.S. Digital Service team. As a visionary technology executive with 25+ years of experience, Rajiv has fostered highly effective leadership teams and has also created multiple technology platforms acquired by industry leaders.

Rajiv holds a master's degree in systems science from Louisiana State University and a bachelor's degree from the Indian Institute of Technology.