

Sarah Cunningham

Sarah Cunningham is a seasoned government financial management executive with a track record of collaborating across organizations to drive innovation, having held key positions at the White House Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and at a major urban county. She is a partner at Summit, supporting clients in data analytics and design, implementation, and improvement of federal finance programs.